A Fund's 30-Day Yield, sometimes referred to as "standardized yield" or "SEC yield," is calculated by dividing the net investment income per share during the preceding 30 days by the net asset value per share on the last day of the period. The 30-Day Yield provides an estimate of a Fund's investment income rate but may not equal the actual income distribution rate. Saturna Capital, the Sextant Core Fund's investment adviser, does not subsidize the Fund's expenses.

Effective duration and modified duration are measures of a fund's sensitivity to changes in interest rates and the markets. A fund's modified duration is a dollar-weighted average length of time until principal and interest payments must be paid. Longer maturities typically indicate greater sensitivity to interest rate changes than shorter maturities. Effective duration differs from modified duration in that it accounts for the optionality embedded in call options and other security specific covenants that can change expected cash flows as the result of the movement of interest rates. Longer durations tend to indicate greater sensitivity to interest rate changes than shorter durations.

The Dow Jones Moderate Portfolio Index is a broad-based index of stock and bond prices that reflects no deductions for fees, expenses, or taxes. Investors cannot invest directly in the index.

Please consider an investment's objectives, risks, charges, and expenses carefully before investing. Risks: Fund share prices, yields, and total returns will change with market fluctuations as well as the fortunes of the countries, industries, and companies in which it invests. Investment in the Sextant Core Fund entails the risks of both equity and debt securities, although it seeks to mitigate these risks through a widely diversified portfolio that includes foreign and domestic stocks and bonds. The Fund invests in the securities of foreign issuers, which are subject to political, regulatory, market, and economic uncertainties. The Fund invests in bonds which entail interest rate risk, generally falling in price when rates increase. Bonds also entail credit risk, which is the possibility that a bond will not pay interest or principal when due.

Credit ratings are the lesser of S&P Global Ratings or Moody's Investors Service. If neither S&P nor Moody's rate a particular security, that security is categorized as not rated (except for US Treasury securities and securities issued or backed by US agencies which inherit the credit rating for the US government). Ratings range from AAA (highest) to D (lowest). Bonds rated BBB or above are considered investment grade. Credit ratings BB and below are lower-rated securities (junk bonds). Ratings apply to the creditworthiness of the issuers of the underlying securities and not the fund or its shares. Ratings may be subject to change.

The Morningstar Sustainability Rating and the Morningstar Portfolio Sustainability Score are not based on fund performance and are not equivalent to the Morningstar Rating ("Star Rating").

Morningstar Sustainability Rating is as of February 28, 2021. The Morningstar Sustainability Rating™ is intended to measure how well the issuing companies of the securities within a fund's portfolio are managing their environmental, social, and governance ("ESG") risks and opportunities relative to the fund's Morningstar category peers. As part of the evaluation process, Morningstar uses Sustainability's ESG scores from the same month as the portfolio as-of-date. The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and is subject to change, which may result in a different Morningstar Sustainability Score and Rating each month. The Fund was rated on 86% percent of Assets Under Management.

The Morningstar Style Box™ reveals a fund's investment strategy. For equity funds, the vertical axis shows the market capitalization of the stocks owned and the horizontal axis shows investment style (value, blend, or growth).
