Account Services

Hold securities in Street Name. Street Name describes securities held in a clearing agent's name rather than the customer's name. When your securities are held in street name, it's easy to transfer them at the time of a sale, and you don't have to worry about the loss of security certificates or their costly replacement.

Detailed statements. You will receive statements quarterly for your Saturna Brokerage account from Pershing, LLC, and monthly for each month that your brokerage account has activity.

Statements include:

- cost-basis by tax-lot
- dividends received
- transactions for the period
- account value at-a-glance

Tax documentation. For an overview of what to expect, please see page 15 or visit www.saturna.com/tax.

Dividend management. Choose to have your cash dividends swept to your money market account, delivered electronically to your bank via EFT, or paid by check periodically.¹ You can indicate your preferred method on your application, or call a representative for assistance. You may elect dividend reinvestment at the time of purchase using our online trading portal for mutual funds only. Dividends paid by stocks or ETFs held in your account will not automatically reinvest. For stock or ETF reinvestment, please contact a representative, or send a signed, written request indicating your dividend reinvestment preference.² Please be aware that not all stocks or ETFs are eligible for dividend reinvestment.

Corporate actions. Our clearing agent handles the administration of all corporate actions, including stock splits, mergers, or tender offers. You may either complete the paperwork mailed to you regarding any specific corporate action relating to a security you own or you may contact a representative for assistance.

Account protection. Pershing LLC, a subsidiary of The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation, is a member of the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC), which protects securities in your account up to $500,000 (including $250,000 for cash claims). An explanatory brochure is available upon request or at www.sipc.org. Pershing provides additional coverage in excess of SIPC protection through Lloyd's of London, which works together with other insurers to provide the excess of SIPC coverage. Neither the SIPC nor excess of SIPC coverage protects against loss due to market fluctuation of investments.

Our Clearing Broker, Pershing LLC

We employ Pershing LLC, member FINRA / NYSE / SIPC, as our clearing agent on a fully disclosed basis. We introduce your account to them and they carry your account and hold your securities.

Pershing LLC is a subsidiary of The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation.

¹ Non-retirement or non-tax-qualified accounts only. For retirement and tax-qualified accounts, dividends are automatically swept to the account's cash management option.

² Dividend reinvestment for stocks or ETFs incur a fee of $1 per instance. Minimum dividend amount of $4, otherwise dividends will be swept to the account's cash option.

To obtain this and other important information about Saturna's no-load mutual funds in a prospectus or summary prospectus, please visit www.saturna.com, or call toll free 1-800-728-1266. Please read the prospectus or summary prospectus carefully before investing.

Online Services

We offer online Brokerage services, including access through mobile devices, to customers who feel comfortable doing business without the assistance of a broker and want 24-hour access to information and investing.

Please note, your brokerage login is separate from your Saturna mutual fund online access and will require a different username and password.

To establish online access, please complete an Online Account Access and E-Delivery Form or contact a representative.

Commissions for stock trades entered online are reduced to $14.95 per trade.¹

Once you are registered for access you can:

- Access all of your Saturna Brokerage accounts using one login and password.
- View current positions, account balances, and transaction histories.
- Buy or sell stocks, ETFs, ETNs, and non-Saturna mutual funds.²

² Purchasing securities in a foreign market may incur additional fees.

³ Tax documents only provided for taxable accounts.

Reliability and predictability of online trading may be reduced by many factors beyond our control. If you do experience problems with your internet connection, you may always telephone Saturna Brokerage directly where live representatives are ready to serve your needs from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Pacific time on US market trading days. The time your order is received may not reflect the time you place an order, as you must allow time for each order to pass certain validation checks before we can take responsibility for the order and route it for execution. In fast-trading stocks subject to rapid swings in price, supply, and demand, an order you give at "market" may be executed at a price substantially above or below its recent quote. If you decide to place an order in a fast market, entering a limit order (instead of a market order) allows you to establish a buy price at the maximum you are willing to pay, or a sell price at the minimum you are willing to receive. While the ease of online trading might encourage more frequent trading, we discourage "day-trading" and caution that excessive trading rarely proves as successful as long-term investing.

For useful tips about online trading, visit the SEC's investor education website (www.sec.gov/investor.shtml) and the Investing Online Resource Center (www.investingonline.org).

Broker Assisted Trading

We offer personalized assistance with brokerage transactions and answers to questions about investing by speaking directly with a trained brokerage representative.

Trained Saturna Brokerage representatives are standing by to:

- Provide detailed explanations of order types
- Supply real-time quotes
- Execute trades
- Provide corporate action information including mergers and acquisitions, stock splits, and dividends
- Answer your account related questions

Our representatives are salaried, meaning they do not work on commission. They are pleased to answer your trading questions in terms you can understand, and help you achieve the best execution of your trade.

Commissions for broker assisted stock trades are $24.95 per trade.¹

Investment Advice

Your Saturna Brokerage account is not an advisory account. Saturna Brokerage Services does not provide investment advice or recommendations. Our interests as brokers may not always be the same as yours. Please ask us questions to make sure you understand your rights and our obligations to you, including the extent of our obligations to disclose conflicts of interest and to provide you with the service you expect. We are paid both by you and, sometimes, by people who compensate us based on your investment choices. The commissions we charge to customers may vary by type of service and customer. Therefore, our brokerage profits, and indirectly our salespersons' compensation, may vary by product and over time.

Saturna Capital Corporation, parent of Saturna Brokerage, provides investment advice to customers only under specific contracts. Various arrangements are available, including separately managed accounts (generally $1 million minimum) and affiliated no-load mutual funds ($250, $1,000, or $10,000 initial minimums). Responsibilities to clients of investment advisers are generally higher than to customers of brokers, including the obligation to always put client interests before ours. Saturna investment advisory clients pay fees based on assets, and in some cases performance – but they generally do not pay brokerage commissions. Please ask your Saturna representative for more information on the difference between brokerage accounts and advisory accounts. Saturna Capital's free Investment Counsel brochure provides further details.

¹ Add 1¢ per share for each share over 1,000 (if share price <$1, add ¼¢ per share). See the Commission Schedule on page 3 for details.

Understanding Your Brokerage Account

Before you begin your investment activities, please take a moment to review some basic information about how your brokerage account works.

A separate account. Brokerage assets are held in an account with Saturna Brokerage Services, through our clearing agent, Pershing LLC (New York & Jersey City). Saturna Capital affiliated mutual fund asset records are maintained directly by the transfer agent (Saturna Capital) in Bellingham. Accounts holding both brokerage assets and affiliated mutual funds are linked through a common registration (name & address information). For more information, see “How Your Saturna Accounts Work Together” on page 5.

Cash management options. You may designate a money market settlement (sweep) account, which allows a convenient way to hold assets until you are ready to reinvest. Cash held in your brokerage account does not earn interest. Accounts seeking the protection of insured deposits may opt to enroll in the Dreyfus Insured Deposits Program. For a list of available Money Market options, please review the Dreyfus Cash Management Funds prospectus, available at www.saturna.com/forms. If you do not specify a cash management option, the default sweep will be to cash.

Option and Margin accounts require additional paperwork, and are subject to approval by Saturna Brokerage Services and Pershing LLC. Please contact a representative for additional details.

Option accounts. Option trading offers experienced investors additional possibilities to earn extra income or capture the movement of the entire market. Options are versatile, and can be as conservative or speculative as your investing strategy dictates. Before trading any options, you should carefully read the free booklet, “Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options,” which outlines the purposes and risks of option transactions. You may request a copy of this booklet from any Saturna representative by calling 1-800-728-1266. Certain types of accounts administered by Saturna Trust Company – such as IRAs and ESAs – are eligible for covered call writing only.

Options trading is not suitable for all investors as the special risks inherent to options trading may expose investors to potentially rapid and substantial losses.

Margin accounts. Margin accounts provide experienced investors who wish to borrow against the value of their securities, sell short, or hedge, the opportunity to earn extra income or capture the movement of the market. Margin accounts are subject to interest on outstanding balances. Please see the Margin Account Agreement for details. Certain types of accounts administered by Saturna Trust Company – such as IRAs and ESAs – are not eligible for margin privileges.

Margin accounts should be considered higher risk than non-leveraged accounts. The use of leverage may accelerate the velocity of potential losses.

Please read the Dreyfus Cash Management Funds prospectus for more information. Yields, expenses, services, and charges (including possible 12b-1 fees) will vary. Money market funds pay daily dividends based upon the fund's portfolio of money market securities. An investment in a money fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Although money funds seek to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in money market funds.

Dreyfus money market mutual funds are distributed by MBSC Securities Corporation. Investing involves risk, including the loss of capital. Please consider an investment's objectives, risks, charges, and expenses carefully before investing. To obtain a prospectus that contains this and other important information about the Dreyfus Cash Management Funds, please call 1-800-728-1266 or visit www.saturna.com/sbs. Please read the prospectus carefully before investing.

Investment pricing. Market orders are executed promptly at the best available market price. Limit orders allow you to set conditions for the execution of your orders. Mutual fund orders are priced at the next available net asset value.

Sweep of funds for purchases. The amount required for settlement, plus any commission or purchase fee, is redeemed from your designated cash or cash equivalent option on the settlement date. Money market funds or Dreyfus Insured Deposits continue to earn interest up to the last business day before settlement.

Payment for purchases. You must have sufficient assets available in your designated cash or cash equivalent option to cover a trade, or plans to add sufficient funds by settlement date. If you place an order online and your account's available funds are not sufficient for settlement, the order could be rejected. If for some reason sufficient funds are not available in your account on the trade settlement date you may incur interest charges, the trade may be canceled (which could incur a loss for your account) and we may place restrictions on your account.

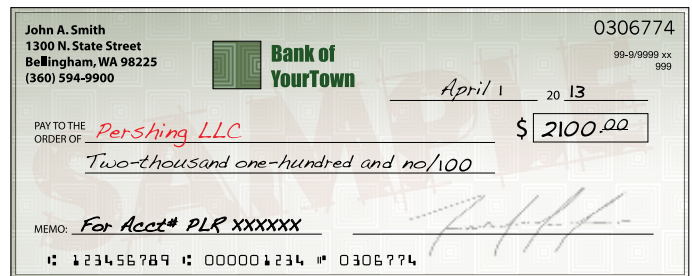

If you plan to pay for a purchase in your brokerage account using assets in a Saturna Capital mutual fund, you must initiate the redemption and movement to your brokerage account by 4 p.m. Eastern time /1 p.m. Pacific time, on the business day before the security settles. Saturna Brokerage is not authorized to initiate a transaction on your behalf.

Make checks payable to "Pershing LLC" and mail to:

Saturna Brokerage Services, Inc.
P.O. Box N
Bellingham WA 98227

Please note: We may reject contributions for any reason, such as anti-money laundering regulations which limit acceptance of third-party checks and money orders.

For market orders, you should consider price volatility when determining whether you will have sufficient assets to pay for your purchase.

Many of these funds are subject to Saturna's ordinary $14.95 commission ($24.95 for broker assisted trades) or charge commissions according to their own load schedule (please see an individual fund's prospectus or summary prospectus for details). However, some mutual funds have chosen not to be included on Pershing's platform. These funds are likely to charge more for access to their shares. Some non-participating funds may have an additional surcharge to help cover cost of distributing the funds. Please contact a Saturna representative with any questions.

Please note: Not all mutual funds are available through these programs. Some mutual funds without selling agreements in place with Saturna Brokerage Services may decline purchases.
